

Public Access to Electronic Information Networks

Electronic Networks and the Library's Mission

Libraries make it possible for citizens to have access to the information they need to make informed decisions. As a member of the Illinois Library and Information Network (ILLINET), the Mount Prospect Public Library is committed to networking, which represents good public policy by maximizing the use of the resources of all types of libraries. Every library user benefits from expanded access to information beyond the four walls of a single library building.

The Mount Prospect Public Library and all ILLINET libraries use electronic information networks such as the Internet for a variety of purposes:

1. Access to shared automation systems that provide bibliographic access to the collections of the local library and libraries in the region and across the state.
2. Access to the wealth of information resources available via the Internet.
3. Access to general and specialized shared licensed databases available to ILLINET member libraries through regional and statewide cooperative programs.

Relationship to Other Library Policies

The Mount Prospect Public Library's Policy for Access to Electronic Information Networks is part of the Library's overall policy structure and should be interpreted in conjunction with other existing policies. Copies of all library policies are available upon request from a library staff member.

"Global" Versus "Local" Resources

Most resources available via the Internet and other electronic information networks are "global" resources rather than "local" resources. The Library does not and cannot control the information content available through global resources such as information obtained from outside sources via the Internet. Internet resources enhance and supplement resources that are available locally within a library. Library users must be aware that this Library does not exercise control nor makes any representations or warranties over information obtained via the Internet and must keep in mind the following points when evaluating information obtained via the Internet:

1. Information obtained via the Internet may or may not be reliable and may or may not be obtained from a reliable source.
2. Information obtained via the Internet may or may not be accurate.
3. Information obtained via the Internet may or may not be current and up to date.
4. Links to information on the Internet may not always be valid, and particular information sites on the Internet may sometimes be unavailable, unpredictably.
5. Information and documentation obtained via the Internet may or may not meet the needs and requirements of the user.

6. Certain information obtained via the Internet may be considered controversial or offensive by some library patrons.
7. The entire risk as to the use of the system is assumed by the user.

The Mount Prospect Public Library urges library patrons to be informed consumers and carefully evaluate information obtained via the Internet. Library staff may be available to assist patrons in making judgements about the reliability or currency of certain types of Internet information sources, but are unable to provide definitive analysis of particular sources due to the extremely large variety and volume of information available via the Internet.

This Library is not responsible for damages, indirect or direct, arising from a library patron's use of Internet information resources.

Library Patrons' Rights

Library patrons have certain rights with respect to use of electronic information networks such as the Internet. This Library will work with other libraries in the Illinois Library and Information Network to preserve and protect these rights, subject to limitations imposed by licensing and payment agreements with database providers.

Library patrons have the right to confidentiality and privacy in the use of electronic information networks to the extent possible given certain constraints, such as proximity of other patrons and staff in public access settings.

Library patrons have the right to equitable access to electronic information networks.

Library patrons have the right to access and read all library service policies and discuss questions with appropriate library staff.

Patron Assistance and Instruction

The Mount Prospect Public Library's staff may provide assistance to patrons in the use of electronic information networks as time and staff knowledge permits. Printed and online documentation, when available, are provided at or near points of service. Formal instruction in particular aspects of electronic information network use is provided by regularly scheduled public programs and by appointment with a staff member.

Children's Access to Electronic Information Networks

The Mount Prospect Public Library supports the right of all library users to access information and will not deny access to electronic information networks based solely on age.

This Library recognizes that the electronic information networks such as the Internet may contain material that is inappropriate for children. Parents are expected to monitor and supervise their children's use of the Internet. Library staff are unable to monitor children's use. Parents are encouraged to discuss with their children issues of appropriate use and electronic information network safety.

Library Procedures Relating to Electronic Networks

This Library has developed certain procedures to assist staff and patrons in the use of electronic information resources. These procedures include (but are not necessarily limited to) the following:

1. Time limits for access to allow use of resources by the maximum number of library patrons,
2. Cost recovery for printouts using the Library's computer equipment,
3. Priority usage for accessing the Library's online catalog,
4. Specific instructions for downloading including compliance with virus protection measures,
5. Patron registration for use to be done prior to usage.

Breach of Policy

Violation of any aspect of this policy may result in the loss of library privileges.
